Attack attempts terror push with ceasefire breach in Poonch

Sanjay Khajuria | INN

Pakistan soldiers violated the ceasefire by firing without provocation in forward areas along the LoC in Jammu's Poonch district Wednesday evening. Security forces said the attack was an attempt to push terrorists into India, using cover fire as a decoy.

Our border guards gave a befitting response in equal measure. There are no immediate reports of casualties or damage on our side," an official source said.

One of the most blatant violations occurred on Sept 11 near the border post in Akhnour sector of Jammu, and another in Samba in Nov 2023.

The latest firing comes amid rising hostilities along the LoC. Security forces anticipate an early start to infiltration attempts this year as melting snow in mountain regions eases movement for terrorists.

The winter hill, which typically stretches for several kilometers, may be shorter than usual this year due to rising temperatures," a security source said.

Recent attacks highlight the growing threat. On Monday, a bullet fired from across the border hit a soldier at a guard post in Nowshera sector of Rajouri district. On February 10, a security force officer was killed in an Ar-15 rifle fire from a forest across the LoC targeted an Ar-15 rifle fire from a forest across the LoC.

In Tuesday, Captain Karanjit Singh Bakshi, 27, and Major Vikash Singh Manhas, 29, lost their lives in an IED attack near the LoC in Akhnour. Security sources estimate 70 to 80 Pakistani terrorists are active in J&K, with 60 in Jammu region. These "highly trained intruders operate in small groups, equipped with weapons like carbines and thermal imaging devices. Their ability to coordinate attacks in the rugged terrain, which offers a natural cover, poses a major challenge.
